

Search Tips and Special Features

Search Operators

And - combines search terms so that each search result contains all of the terms. For example, education and technology finds articles that contain both terms.

Or - combines search terms so that each search result contains at least one of the terms. For example, education or technology finds results that contain either term.

Wildcards and Truncation

Use the wildcard and truncation symbols to create searches where there are unknown characters, multiple spellings or various endings. Neither the wildcard nor the truncation symbol can be used as the first character in a search term.

The wildcard is represented by a question mark (?). To use the wildcard, enter your search terms and replace each unknown character with a ?.

For example, type ne?t to find all citations containing neat, nest or next. Truncation is represented by an asterisk (*). To use truncation, enter the root of a search term and replace the ending with an *.

EBSCOhost finds all forms of that word. For example, type comput* to find the words computer or computing.

Getting Started with E-Resources

SPORTDiscus

This leaflet will help you to start using SPORTDiscus.

SPORTDiscus is an electronic database which contains information relating to sports and sports medicine.

IMPORTANT:

- SPORTDiscus provides many full-text journal articles but some articles may not be available in full-text
- You will need your ATHENS passwords to access CINAHL off campus.
- Please check your college email for your ATHENS passwords.
- Please contact a member of LIS staff if you can't access your ATHENS

This guide is available in other formats on request.

Step 1

Go to the Library and Information Services Website:

<http://www.ucsm.ac.uk/lis>

Step 2

Click on the link to eResources (on the left of the page).

Step 3

Scroll down the page and click on the link to SPORTDiscus.

Step 4

Tick the box next to SPORTDiscus with Full Text and click continue. If you are off-campus click on Athens Users Login in the top right of the Ebsco page, then enter your Athens username and password

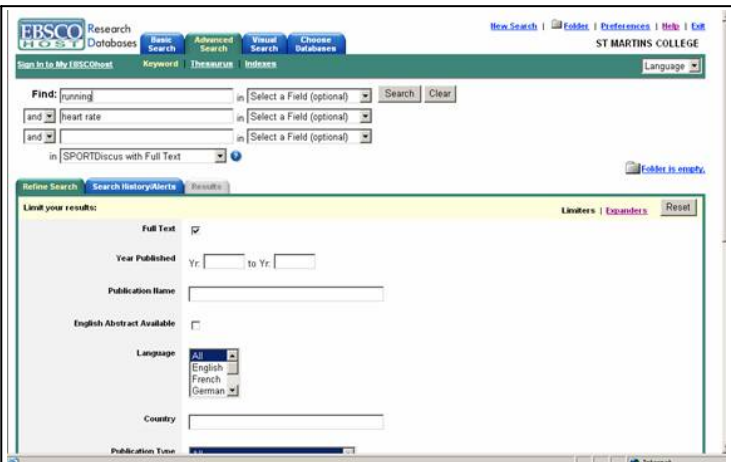

Step 5

In the first Find field, enter a keyword.

Choose the search field from the drop-down list (e.g., search in only the Subject Terms field of the citation).

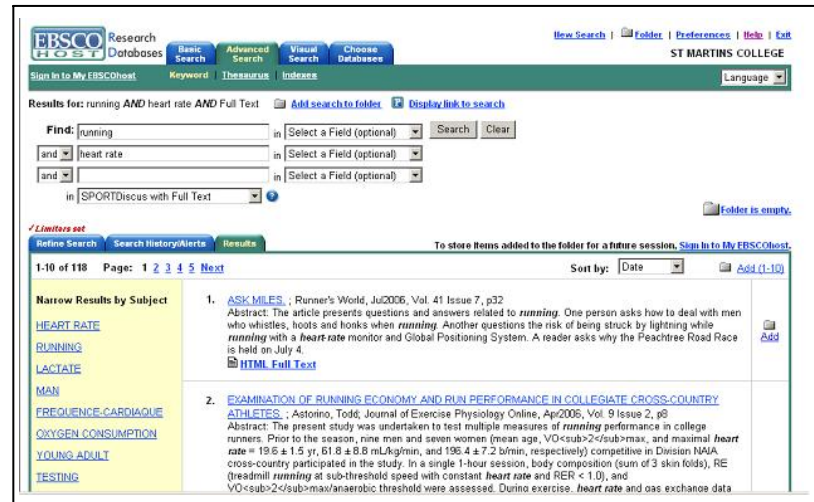

Repeat steps 2 and 3 for the second set of Find fields.

Notice that you have got many options to limit your search below the search box.

Step 6

Click Search. A Result List is displayed.

Step 7

Click on the title of an article. You will see all the citation information that you will need for your bibliography. You may also see a link to the full-text of the article in either HTML or PDF format.
